City Nurse And Chester

Chester man trained as a civil engineer will leave Sunday for 20 months' service with the Peace Corps in West Pakistan.

They are Miss Harriet Whealdon, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whealdon, 2119 Ohio Ave., and Edward Laughley, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laughley, 528 Florida Ave., Chester.

EXPECTING TO serve in remote villages in the nation that once was part of the Indian subcontinent, Miss Whealdon and Laughley Friday completed almost three months of preparatory training at the University of Minnesota in St. Paul.

Miss Whealdon will serve in health and community development work. Laughley will be assigned to government public works projects, aiding and directbridges, roads and school build-

Test Ban-Gambler's Chance

Nothing but good can come of the airing of doubts about the nuclear test-ban treaty before the Senate ratified it Tuesday.

The outcome of the voting never was in doubt. Those who wrote and spoke against the proposal had no hope of stopping

Why, then, did so many people work so hard to throw a bad light on a proposal whose approval was a sure thing?

They lacked the confidence that made the treaty attractive to its backers. They could not make themselves believe an agreement with the Soviet Union was worth the effort.

Their skepticism never yielded to the logic of the treaty's backers. They did not think of it as logic. They thought it was nonsense. But there was logic in it.

NOW THAT THE debate is over and the decision made, it should be understood that backers of the test-ban treaty never trusted the Soviet Union and do not trust it now. This was no an agreement prompted by faith, or any of the noble sentiments.

It was prompted by gambler's judgment that this was the time to try a bold stroke the United States had been trying to bring off for 12 years.

A nuclear test-ban treaty is an American idea. It did not originate in Moscow but in Washington. Now Moscow buckled and said it had no objecton, gambler's judgment ruled that now was the time to follow through

THE TREATY does not prohibit nuclear testing-only aerial testing and testing over water. Testing can continue.

It promises to curtail pollution of the supper air

It promises to ease world tension. Best of all its potential merits is the hope implicit in the fact the United States, the Soviet Union and the United Kingdom have reached agreement on such a difficult

If the Soviet Union has decided to put Russian survival ahead of Communist conquest, the test-ban agreement might be the first of a series which would check the armaments race.

IT IS CONCEIVABLE that the United States and the Soviet Union, together with Britain and an assortment of nonnuclear powers, might be drawn together by a common danger, perhaps arising from Red China's nuclear aspirations, even the aspirations of France, traditional ally of the United

Not everybody can share this hope. The skeptics have had their say. Optimists have carried the day.

A test-ban treaty is going to be given a gambler's chance.

A Year Later

What a difference a year can make! Last fall the football fortunes of East Liverpool High School were anything but bright. This season things are on the rosy side, with three straight victories having boosted the Potters into eighth place in the weekly Associated Press poll which ranks the teams across the state.

This weekend the eyes of local fans will be on New Philadelphia, where the Blue and White will be going after its fourth victory in a row. Win or lose, every loyal fan will stick with the Potters.

The boys and their coaches have done a great job to date. Fall will be even more pleasant if the victories keep rolling in. And there's no reason why they shouldn't if the fans and players alike can retain the same enthusiasm and same determination that has marked the season up to this point.

Progress In Mental Health

The recent report of Martin Janis, head of Ohio's Department of Mental Hygiene, should put permanently to rest the illusion Gov. Rhodes' political opponents sought to develop-that the department had been shorn of its professionals on a wholesale scale.

It turned out that some "new hires" among professional employes had been fired erroneously during the governor's early cutdown order for the state payroll.

This, however, was remedied quickly. Mr. Janis reports, and the incidence of turnover now is less than the national 2 per cent average. As a matter of fact, he reports, his department now has more physicians and psychiatrists than it had a year ago, despite the difficulty of finding qualified professional people to serve in these capacities.

It is comforting to note, too, that Mr. of the public in the state's mental health program.

Time was when mental care amounted to little more than incarceration. This has changed with the advent of the receiving hospitals which have succeeded in nipping many potential mental cases in the bud.

and with more modern methods of treatment. As a result, Ohio's mental hospital population has decreased 4 per cent in the last year-more than double the national average.

Mental illness is one of the saddest of man's physical ailments and it is encouraging to note that progress is being made in its treatment.

Atomic Safety

Two back strains and a sprained kneethat's the six-year safety record of the Shippingport atomic power station.

The report comes from a study by the Mine Safety Appliances Co., disclosing the three lost-time accidents.

Donald F. West of Mine Safety credits precautionary measures with making the Shippingport safety record possible. These included the education and training of emploves, the installation of safety equipment and protective appliances for persons exposed to possible radiation.

The Shippingport installation-the world's first full-scale nuclear generating plant devoted exclusively to peaceful use-thus once more has justified the faith of those farsighted enough to see its worth in the scientific world of today.

Baddies Can Have Snafus, Too

We feel better after holding our sides over that escape tunnel dug into a guard room at Ohio Penitentiary.

The two desperadoes who pulled that one give us outsiders a feeling of kinship. The impression had been made lately that everything done by denizens of the underworld is planned so meticulously that nothing can go wrong. Multi-million-dollar train robberies, postal truck robberies and some slick bank jobs have awestruck us. A fellow wonders what would happen if operators capable of such precise methodology ever decided to go straight. They would become geniuses of the era. Magazines would instead of the floor of a vacant room above it-what a howler! They didn't know the floor of their cell was lower than the guard room ceiling, but this is exactly the kind of thing they are supposed to find out. Otherwise, the baddies are as clumsy as any of the rest of us when we mess around with schemes for self-improvement, always tripping up over the detail we didn't take the trouble to find out about.

First The Moon By Truman Twill

There is this ironic fact about human affairs, that sharpies figure out how to do all the tough jobs but neglect many easy ones, with the effect that some of the latter turn nto nagging problems.

Like getting burrs out of a dog when autumn sets in.

The sharpies can get distemper out of dogs. They can ward off heptatitis and fleas. They can make the beast smell sweet and nourish him scientifically

But if he plasters himself with the tenacious seeds that cling to his coat this time of year, there is no method for getting them out without an ordeal of coercion and suffering.

What makes this ridiculous is the fact the same dog that howls in agony when being freed of burrs by a human Samaritan will stoically pull them out of his own tail with his own teeth, hair and all, and never whimper.

In the case of two or more dogs, one dog not uncommonly will pull burrs out of a companion's ears, for instance, with no fear of retaliation, though a person performing the same service must keep his hands out of reach of searching teeth.

UNDOUBTEDLY it hurts.

It hurts some dogs more than others, especially dogs with long outer hair and dense undercoats. Undercoats are composed of myriads of silky hairs pulled out during burr removal, each one inflicting a separate stab

There is no alternative. A dog running through the fields and woods this time of year needs to be deburred twice a week to keep it from encasing itself so completely in burrs. Its coat may have to be partly scissored off to get rid of them

A long-tailed dog with a plume can convert it into an immovable cylinder of burrs in a day. And a dog that suffers the misfortune to snag a full-size cockle burr in the wrong place, with those needle points at both ends pressing into its flesh cannot

Here is one of the toughest problems of modern times with no solution because the great intellects of the era never have been

THEY ARE preoccupied with organizing expeditions to the moon, or plumbing the depths of the ocean.

They are concerned with making gadgets to take the place of human effort - gadgets that will demand no fringe benefits, never throw temperamental fits, waste no time gabbing at the water cooler, or take a day off to attend their wives' funerals.

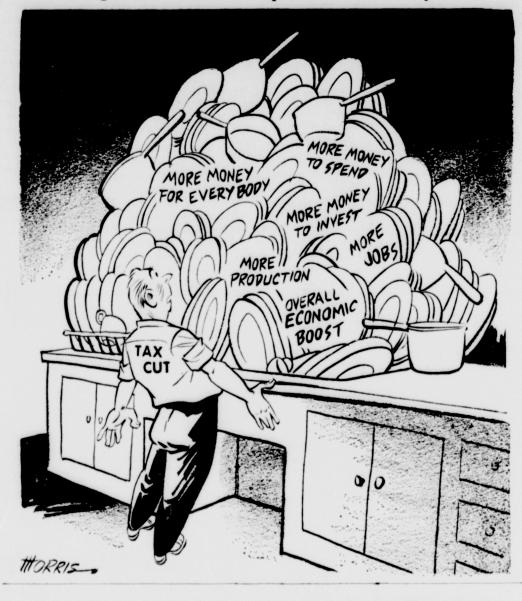

There must be something sharpies could do about this, some kind of a ray or disintegrator they could design that would make deburring a dog as easy as cleaning up a

We're waiting, scientists,

Chances are, we'll wait a long time. We gotta get to the moon and back first. A lot of important things will have to wait on that.

Except in isolated cases, the U.S. Navy did not begin drafting men into its service until during World War II, when a million and a half men were inducted.

Are Longshoremen Or U.S. Right?

"We aim to keep open and wid-

By Victor Riesel

It's the position of the U.S. Department of State that efforts by American longshoremen and seamen to boycott Communist goods "m i scation's. Victor Riesel These letters have been followed by visits of State Department officers to some union headquarters. There, the government men urged the movement of Communist cargo coming in from the USSR and Eastern Europe

The visits are recent. In the course of these conversations, the emissaries from the State Department revealed that the official attitude of the government is to help the Russians and their satellite bloc because "Red China is the real enemy now.

One of the letters, which was signed by State Department director of the Office of Public Services, Daniel Montenegro, left absolutely no doubt that White House policy is to encourage increased trade with Eastern example.

IN THIS communication, dated as recently as June 18, 1963, Montenegro said

"The effort to boycott goods from Communist countries constitutes a determined but misguided attempt by groups of individuals to put into effect their own concepts of what U. S. foreign trade policy should be. The activities of these groups are not only contrary to existing U.S. policy but are also detrimental to the economic and political interests of this

Montenegro said that trade with the Soviet bloc is important because it keeps open the communications between both sides,

"It has long been the policy of the United States," added Montengro, "under this and the previous administration to favor the increased contacts between East and West which flow from trade in peaceful goods.

The policy of this government seeks, among other things, to increase the American presence and influence in Eastern Europe in pursuit of common Western policy in the area.

GRIN AND BEAR IT and the peoples of Eastern Europe "For these reasons and because trade is helpful in itself, the government has pursued this policy.' MONTENEGRO THEN revealed that during 1962 our exports to the European - Soviet bloc countries totaled $125 million. In turn the United States bought from these countries materials worth some $78 million. Thus American producers made a net gain - and so did the U.S. ballance of payments, he wrote.

Under government pressure the longshoremen have eased their boycott. They now are unloading Polish hams and other goods from that land, as well as material from Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia.

What concerns the dockworkers. however, is the possibility that indirectly they are aiding in the industrial and military buildup of Communist Cuba by easing their boycott of all Communist goods.

The longshoremen's leaders are aware that the Soviet bloc now is haul goods from Russian and Eastern European ports to Hamburg, Rotterdam or Antwerp, for

At these ports the cargoes are split. Some are loaded aboard big ocean - going freighters bound for Cuba. Some are put on board vessels bound for the United States. The Communists make a profit on goods sent here - a profit in dol-

THE COMMUNISTS need those dollars, first, to pay for the material they buy in the United States - and they buy only what they need, and will continue to purchase here, says Gleason, regardless of whether we buy from

Secondly, the Communist bloc needs those dollars to pay for British, Dutch, Scandinavian and French freighters hauling equipment and supplies to Cuba

Thus the longshoreman feel that abandonment of the boycott would simply open the United States to Soviet bloc dumping here and prove a source of hard currency to pay for the build-up of Castro's regime. However, insiders believe that the boycott will end soon. The longshoremen's union will retract slowly. It cannot long stand up against government policy as it is reflected in the final paragraph of Montenegro's letter, which says: "The decision to trade with firms in Eastern Europe is one for individual American concerns make. Similarly, individuals are free to purchase goods from these countries or not, as they may wish "We do not believe, however, that the interests of the United States would be served either in terms of export trade promotion or in terms of maintaining channels of communication useful to us, by any action to eliminate this form of contact with Eastern Only time will tell who is right

Mr. McCuen was beaten to the ground and was rescued when less narrow-minded white people intervened. He required hospital treatment for facial wounds.

The Negro people of Wellsville are shocked and upset. A thing like this isn't supposed to happen in our town. As president of the Progressive Democratic Club, it is my duty to file a letter of protest with the state liquor board.

Cash Flow And Taxes

By David Lawrence

Benefits From Levy Cut Will Take Time

term in the business world. It indicates how much cash is on hand with which to carry on daily operations. So it may come as a surprise to most people to learn that, under the socalled tax cut now being proposed, the 15,000 corpora tions which bring in the David Lawrence bulk of the tax revenues are going to have no immediate benefit from the revision of tax rates.

This is because large corporations-those with tax liabilities in excess of $100,000 a year-will be required to pay during the next year a major part of their 1964 tax liability together with their usual payments for 1963 taxes. This will amount to about the same as they paid in 1963 or on 1962 tax returns, even though the rates themselves are scheduled to go down next Janu-

President Kennedy, in his address on TV and radio to the nation a few days ago, said: "Every businessman can keep a higher percentage of his profits in his cash register, or put it to work expanding or improving his business.

Whoever did the memoranda prepared for the President's speech didn't make clear that cumulating tax payments could be involved

What is most disappointing, of course, is the news that most of the very businessmen who are expected to get the economy moving by reason of the tax cuts will not have available to them next year the benefit of these tax reductions.

IN FACT, it will be seven years before the acceleration of cash payments will be completed. So it's hard to see where the stimulus to spending in business and the incentive to expand and create new jobs will be coming from or how this by itself will avoid a recession.

The House Ways and Means Committee report last week showed that payments to the Treasury from corporations averaging about $5 million a year would average more than 99 per cent as much in tax payments during the next five years as the tax payments under present law. Thus, the ability of the large corporations to finance operations. build new plants and get new machinery will be no greater under the new tax schedules than they are under the present schedules of tax rates. Cash flow is made up of net profits after taxes and depreciation charges. Dividend payments come out of cash flow and the balance is available for current have pointed out that dividend payments follow cash flow more cure unemployment.

"Cash flow" is a meaningful closely than they follow net profits. Retained profits and depreciation charges-the cash flow after dividends-make up more than 60 per cent of the funds used by corporations. The other 40 per cent is the amount obtained by long and short-term borrowings and from the sale of a corporation's equity stocks.

INCREASED cash flow in the next seven years will be just about equal to the increase in tax payments being made during that period so as to get on a current basis. This is but another way of saying that the so-called tax cut will be merely a bookkeeping transaction for another seven years and that the amount of available cash will not be materially changed within that period by reason of tax cuts.

The smaller corporations, to be sure, will get the benefit of the new tax rates immediately. The amounts made available, however, are very small. A company with $100,000 profits now has to pay $46,500 in taxes and, under the new rates next year, will pay $43,000 and in 1965 and later $41 500

This means a saving of $5,000 a year by 1965, which, of course, will be beneficial. It doesn't compare with the much larger sums that usually become necessary to make improvements in a business.

The real reason, however, why the special exemption was retained for the corporations with tax liabilities of $100,000 or less is that the cash flow of the smaller businesses is vital to their experience. They carry on their operations and pay their monthly bills to a considerable extent with the tax money that isn't due until the following year.

The problems of the larger corporations are not in essence very different. They, too, depend on cash flow to conduct their monthby-month operations and more of them will have to borrow because of accelerated payments to the Treasury. This means an extra expense for interest charges.

WHAT IS DIFFICULT to understand is why the House Ways and Means Committee, upon the recommendation of the Treasury, voted to discriminate against the larger corporations by compelling them to pay in 1964 a bigger part of the taxes that normally wouldn't be due until 1965 and to continue such advance payments for a seven-year period

There has been much talk lately about "equal protection under law," but the corporation which earns a gross profit of more than $200,000 will discover when the pending tax bill is enacted that there is no such thing as equality between corporations. A penalty is imposed upon success at the very time that the President has been telling the nation that the whole purpose of the operations. Many financial experts new tax cut is to furnish incentive for the creation of jobs to

Expect great things from Chevrolet again-for '64

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan-one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets.

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). New quieter transmissions. Jetsmooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delco-tron generator, self-adjusting brakes and other low-upkeep features. If you've ever wondered how luxurious Chevrolet could get—with all the extracost options available at your Chevrolet dealer's—that's entirely up to you.

Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

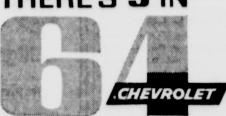

New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe—one of 11 models in three great series.

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior of its Body by Fisher gives you a generous supply of passenger and luggage room. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp

V8 (optional at extra cost). Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series with eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. (This good-looking Malibu Super Sport maybe?)

-Junior Editors Quiz on-STAMPS

QUESTION: How did stamps come to be used for postage?

ANSWER: Stamps were in use for other purposes before they were adopted for postage. Stamps on documents, etc., showed that taxes to governments had been paid. We show at upper left one of the stamps which England forced the American colonists to use. The colonists bitterly resented this-it was one of the causes of the Revolution.

In the 1800's, postal services began to improve. In 1840, Great Britain began issuing stamps which could be placed on letters to prove the postage had been paid. The first stamps, the "Penny Black" and another selling for two pence, were issued May 6, 1840. Several other countries began to use stamps shortly thereafter, but it was not until 1847 that the U.S. began to issue them. We show one of the first American stamps.

By 1864, a stamp catalog had been published, which shows that the great hobby of stamp collecting must have started Stamps tell of many romantic places and occupations. And, there's always the possibility of making some rare find. * * *

FOR YOU TO DO: A very pleasant way of getting stamps from foreign countries is to exchange American stamps for foreign ones by corresponding with a foreign friend, or pen pal. You can find lists of foreign boys and girls who would like American pen pals in newspapers and magazines. *

Ted Bachta Jr. of Auburn. N. Y., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

DEAR HELOISE: If you knit, try using the little plastic clips that come on some plastic bags that contain rolls and breads. I used to have difficulty keeping track of rows of stitches when I knitted or crocheted. I can now write the number of rows on the plastic with a pencil and then rub it out with my finger, when I count the next number. . .

Also these little plastic tabs come in several colors and can be used as index tabs, plant and bulb labels, etc. I use several as cook book markers.
